41.	Consideration for adopting National Academic Depository (NAD) an initiative by Government of India facilitated by Ministry of Human Resource Development.	National Academic Depository (NAD) is an initiative scheme related to the issue of academic award to students including degrees, diplomas and certificates along with mark sheets at higher education level and records maintained in papers and registers. A need for a simplified mechanism to verify academic qualifications for those entering into higher education and employment requires credible authenticity and verification of academic awards. All these aspects are related to Examination Section. In this connection, the Syndicate after a thorough discussion, resolved as under. The Syndicate resolved to approve the adoption of National Academic Depository (NAD), an initiative by Government of India facilitated by Ministry of Human Resource Development in the University. Further, it resolved to authorize the Registrar (Evaluation), K.U. Dharwad to sign the digital signature on all marks cards and all the information related to examination to be uploaded to NAD Depository and he will be assisted by a fulltime Nodal Officer from the examination section.
